DG Wanda's Notes

A most Happy and Healthy New Year to all! I trust you had a well earned rest and enjoyed fellowship with family and friends over Christmas.

We are now into the third quarter of the year in our 'World of Service' and sadly we have dropped a few numbers. However, I am positive that we can re-focus and bring those back up to provide the much needed hands of service in our communities. Our membership committee has had its first meeting of the new year and will be contacting clubs to assist them in their membership goals for the year. Additionally, please note the article on membership (Recruiting Corner – taken from Membership Pulse) in this publication.

One of the issues surrounding our membership numbers has always been our lack of visibility in the community; whether by absence of media coverage in our local papers, radio and television or by lack of our actual presence in the community. I realize that not all clubs experience this problem but many do and we have the opportunity to have a major public relations event in the Edmonton and surrounding area and, we have provided that information for you since the beginning of November. At this point (two months later) there are only 40, that's forty Lions registered for the Oil Kings game on January 26. We have been given the option of having our display up and brochures to hand out, our own seating section and there will be a dedication to Lions at that game, and all we can come up with is 40 Lions??? If you have public relations funds in your budgets this would be an opportune time to use it (tickets are only $16.00) and send your members out in their

Lions shirts (no vests) and show the community we do indeed exist. I look forward to seeing all of you who are able to attend.

Another issue around membership is retention, and that relates to positive club performance and leadership. We have some clubs that need to shake the cobwebs off and wake up, clubs that have seen a major increase in membership, and clubs that are coasting on idle. It is my firm belief the Club Excellence Process Workshop is an exceptional product from LCI which will have a great impact not just on those clubs but all clubs. This workshop is approximately four hours long or four one hour sessions and can be conducted at your meeting place. However, my sense is that getting away from the familiar will provide a much more positive learning environment for all. We have experienced Lions in our District that can conduct these workshops and I encourage you to ask your club to consider participating.

When you get a bladder infection, urine trouble.

Please mark May 17 and 18, 2013 on your calendars. The MD37 Convention in Helena, Montana registration form is attached to this issue. There will be very important amendments and nominations that require your votes to direct our organization into the future and remember, your club must have zero balance at LCI to participate in that voting.

As always, keep on doing what you do, in providing those hands of service in the community, thank you.

Recruiting Corner

Who Should Your Club Invite?

1) My club is mostly comprised of:

- Men, we are somewhat of an "old boys club."
- Both men and women, some have children at home.
- Men and/or women, a lot of us are over 60.

2) Our best service project:

- Has an emotional impact on members, and provides immediate results to the community.
- Has components for all ages, kids can easily help.
- Is hands-on, we want to break a sweat.

3) Our club is located:

- In an established community, everyone works together.
- In a growing community, lots of families are moving in.
- In a community with lots of young adults and students.

4) The majority of our members:

- Have spouses, and many spouses are not members.
- Have children living at home and want to involve them.
- Are retired, our club is getting old.

5) Our club wants to:

- Grow and/or diversify our membership, our club needs more hands for service.
- Involve more families, we would like spouses and children to participate in club events.
- Start using more technology, we want to use social networking sites to promote club activities.

If you answered mostly:

A – Your club should invite women to join.

Inviting a few women to join your club will not only help grow membership, women will add new perspective and skills to club activities and diversify your membership. Current members should be prepared to do some additional and new community service projects.

B – Your club should involve family members.

Volunteering together as a family will help you spend more quality time together. Did you know, family members joining the same club receive a dues discount as part of the Family Membership Program? The Cub Program also helps support family-friendly clubs by including children under age 12.

C – Your club should seek younger members.

Young adult members bring new energy, ideas and diverse skills into your club and ensure your club's legacy will continue. Consider recruiting a few student members and former Leos into your club! Club members should be prepared to do some new projects.

DEVON LIONS CLUB CAN TAB WHEEL CHAIR PROJECT

The Lions Club of Devon has been collecting can tabs for the past fifteen years, on behalf of several Lions clubs. These can tabs plus other items made of aluminum are accumulated and sold in bulk. The funds received are placed in a wheel chair account to be used to purchase a wheel chair (manual or power) for needy individuals nominated by one of the participating LIONS clubs.

Velcro. What a rip off!

Any Lions club who have turned in multiple amounts of can tabs or other aluminum items become eligible to receive funding from this account to go towards the purchase of a wheel chair in their respective community.

The wheel chair is provided on a permanent loan basis subsequent to the signing of an agreement, with LIONS retaining ownership and providing inspections and maintenance.

When the individual no longer has use for the wheel chair it is returned to the participating LIONS club to be repaired as required and made available for others in need.

To date this can tab account has partially funded the purchase of three wheel chairs in three communities, with the participating Lions Club funding the balance required.

THE ROYAL ORDER OF LIONS – OUR BEGINNING

In all the material our Lions Information Committee has circulated over the past couple of years, we have stressed that our Lions organization began in 1917. While that is technically correct, there's another side to the story, and that's the subject of this meeting's Lions Information circular. We hope it will be of interest to all our members, and particularly those who have joined our ranks in the past couple of years.

We all know that our Founder, Melvin Jones, was a member of the Business Circle of Chicago, one of many all-male organizations that sprang up in the late 1800's and the early part of the 1900's. The primary purpose and philosophy of those groups was to meet people involved in other occupations and professions, and to share ideas and concepts about how they could help each other to succeed. The concept of "service" – helping the less fortunate and contributing to a better community – without personal reward – was not as yet a reason for membership in those organizations.

In the meetings of the Business Circle of Chicago, where Melvin Jones had risen to the office of Secretary, he spoke of "the marvelous opportunity for businessmen to work together for the betterment of the community and to serve others". He began to spread this concept of "service without personal reward" to other similar organizations.

One such organization was the "Royal Order of Lions", headquartered in the State of Indiana, USA. History tells us that the Royal Order of Lions was organized in 1901, and over the next few years had grown to have a membership of 650 men from 105 diverse professional categories: syndicated columnists, businessmen, painters, newsboys, journalists, surgeons, lawyers, piano sellers, car re-sellers, repair parts and tire sellers, publicists, mechanics, bakers, and bank employees, among others.

History also tells us that the organization was growing rapidly, and in October of 1916, it had 27 Clubs (to be known later as "founder" Lions Clubs). On October 24, 1916, the "International Association of Lions Clubs" was registered in the State of Indiana as a non-profit organization. Between the registration and the legendary meeting that took place in the LaSalle Hotel in Chicago in June of 1917, eight more Clubs were formed, bringing the total of "Royal Lions" Clubs to 35.
